

Using ESG Data to Simplify the Complex

Steven Bullock
Global Head of Research
Trucost, part of S&P Global

Steve leads Trucost's Global ESG Innovation and Client Delivery Team providing essential intelligence to companies and their investors so that they can allocate capital to more sustainable business models and communicate ESG performance to their stakeholders.

Steve was Trucost's lead on the world's first public environmental profit and loss "EP&L" account for PUMA and led the technical development of the Water Risk Monetizer (in collaboration with Ecolab and Microsoft). More recently, Steve contributed to the technical development of the S&P Global Ratings Green Evaluation tool and the S&P 500 Carbon Price Risk 2030 Adjusted Index. He also led the technical development of Trucost's Climate Change Physical Risk Analytics.

Jaspreet Duhra
