

ESG Goes Mainstream in the Wake of 2020 Upheavals

Daniel Perrone
Director and Head of Operations, ESG Indices
S&P Dow Jones Indices

Daniel Perrone is Director and Head of Operations, Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Indices at S&P Dow Jones Indices (S&P DJI). Daniel is responsible for the operation, design, and methodology of S&P DJI's ESG indices globally.

Prior to his current position, Daniel served as the team leader for the Global Strategy & Thematic Indices team in S&P DJI's Index Maintenance & Production Group (IMPG), overseeing the day-to-day production of thousands of S&P DJI's indices globally. Daniel has over 11 years of experience in an operations role at S&P DJI.

Daniel holds a bachelor's degree in statistics from Rutgers University. He is also pursuing an MBA from Rutgers University, with emphases on strategy and leadership.

Meaghan Victor
Head of SPDR ETFs Asia Pacific Distribution
State Street Global Advisors

Meaghan Victor is a Managing Director of State Street Global Advisors. She is Head of SPDR ETFs Asia Pacific Distribution and sits on the SPDR Global Executive Management Group. In this role she is responsible for leading, managing and developing SPDR ETF distribution business across Asia Pacific, coordinating the distribution engagement for clients across capital markets, product and infrastructure. Meaghan is also responsible for developing strategies to drive sales of SPDR ETFs across key client segments: Institutional Asset Owners, Institutional Asset Managers and Financial Intermediaries.

Prior to joining SSGA in 2017, Meaghan was National Partnership Manager at the BT Financial Group. Over her 26 year career in the financial industry, Meaghan has held positions focused on sales management, strategy and product development at firms including Fidelity International, Colonial First State Investments, and Macquarie Investment Management.

Meaghan has a Bachelor of Arts majoring in Economics and Economic History, from the University of New England Australia.

Martin Dinh
Senior Product Manager, Investment Products
ASX

Martin Dinh is the Senior Product Manager for Investment Products at ASX and has been in this role since 2013. He is responsible for the admission of exchange traded products, warrants and mFunds as well as managing the exchange's relationship with existing and prospective fund managers. Martin has played a key role in the growth of ASX's Investment Product market including facilitating the admission of over 150 Investment Products since 2013.

Martin holds a Bachelor of Business from the University Technology of Sydney.

Tim Mackay
Principal & Head of Strategy
Quantum Financial Services Australia

Tim Mackay is a Sydney-based independent financial planner. Prior to joining Quantum Financial, he worked in investment banking with Deutsche Bank, UBS and HSBC in London and New York. He is a CFP, fellow of the Chartered Accountants Australia & New Zealand, SMSF Specialist and holds an honours degree in Economics from the University of Sydney and an MBA from London Business School.

Tim writes a monthly column in the AFR and was named in the Barron's list of the top Australian financial advisors in 2017, 2018, 2019 and 2020.

Stuart Magrath
Senior Director, Head of Channel Management – Australia and New Zealand
S&P Dow Jones Indices

Stuart Magrath is Senior Director, Channel Management, Australia & New Zealand at S&P Dow Jones Indices. He focuses on the current and future financial aspects of the accumulation and draw-down phases of the retirement community of both countries. Stuart services the needs of different influencers including financial advisors, accountants, and SMSF members.

Stuart started his career with KPMG in their Tax Advisory business in Sydney, followed by a number of roles in publishing, both traditional and online, including with the Sydney Futures Exchange prior to its merger with the ASX.

In 2001, Stuart made the move into retail financial services. Stuart is a graduate of the University of NSW, Sydney, with Bachelor degrees in both Commerce (Accounting) and Law.

Stuart is also a graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.